Barber plans to retire

Denver L. Eller, owner and long-time operator of Denver's Barber Shop at 315 Riffle in Greenville, will lay down his scissors and end a 61-year career as of Monday, Dec. 1.

Eller, 83, started his first barber shop in 1925 in what was known as the Maher Building. In 1933 he joined the Jake Sherer shop and managed it for several years. In 1946 he purchased what was known as the Hufnagle Barber Shop and ran this until the building was sold to the restaurant next door for an expansion plan.

He then worked for the Fifth Street Barber Shop until opening his present place of business in his home in 1963.

He was born and raised in Darke County, the son of the late Orvill and Susie (Smith) Eller.

He and his wife, Mary, plan to move eventually to quarters at the Brethren Home, where he may take up some barbering again.

Twin Sons Join Grandparents

Tuesday was homecoming day for the Kim Peters family.

The Peters' three-year-old twin sons, Nathaniel and Jeremy, were released from Children's Medical Center, Dayton, and Mr. Peters' parents, Mary Anne and Dick, and his brothers, Bud and Jack, returned to Greenville from their home in Tampa, Fla, to be with the family, whose home was gutted by flames Friday, three days before Christmas.

The twins, who suffered from smoke inhalation, were rushed to Wayne Hospital before being transferred to Children's Medical Center with their 16-month-old sister, Shanna. Shanna was taken to Shriners Burns Institute in Cincinnati this morning.

The children's mother, Beth, has been taken out of the intensive care unit at Miami Valley Hospital, Dayton, and was listed in "fair" condition today.

The fire, which was discovered by Patrolman Mark Snyder of the Greenville Police Department, is said to have been caused by the lights onthe Peters' live Christmas tree.

Mrs. Peters, who had been dressing at the time, rescued her daughter, who was in the [illegible]om near the tree. The twins were not located until later, at which time one was found in a bedroom closet and the other, underneath a crib.

According to fire department officials, firefighters Steve Birt and Dick Crissinger discovered the boys, and emergency treatment was given at the scene. The entire fire department was on the scene, battling the blaze which destroyed the frame structure on Wagner Avenue.

THE TWINS are staying with their maternal grandparents, Bob and Betty Munn, on Sherman Street.

Mr. Munn visited his daughter Tuesday and said her spirits are higher than they have been since the fire.

Mr. Peters, who was at his job at the time of the fire, accompanied his daughter to the burns center in Cincinnati today, according to the Munns. Shanna is being treated for burns she received in the fire, which destroyed nearly everything the family owned. WDRK immediately set up a fire fund for its employee's family on Friday, and, to date, has collected $3,714.25 through personal donations. Margy Williams, coordinator of the fund, told the Daily Advocate this morning, WDRK has opened an account, and anyone who wishes to contribute to it may take their donations to Greenville National Bank for the Kim Peters Fire Fund.
